Military Attacks at Bern, Switzerland, Hear Reports That Forty-Mile Nazi "Big Berthas" at Calais and Dunkerque Have Already Begun Laying Down a Cross-Channel Barrage Behind Dover; Shells Falling in Coastal Town

BULLETIN
London, Aug. 13.—A swarm of German raiders returned to the attack on 200 miles of English coast late this afternoon, fighting a large-scale combat with defending planes behind low-hanging clouds. The thunder of scores of motors and the crashes of several planes told the story to ground observers, although the clouds hid most of the fighting. It was the climax to the third successive day of power assault, and again today—as on Sunday and Monday—the Nazis were using from 400 to 600 planes. From Berlin and throughout the Reich, too, came predictions that the zero hour for actual invasion was approaching.

By The Associated Press
Attacking in waves of 50 to 100 Germany's ace fighting and bombing pilots stepped up the tempo of the 3-day-old aerial blitzkrieg against Britain today in ferocious assaults all along a 200-mile front on the English channel. While British RAF Spitfires and Hurricane fighters roared up to meet the Nazi sky raiders, the insistent London press warned of a German attempt at actual invasion may be imminent. From two other points—one belated, one neutral—came strong intimations that the long-awaited "zero hour" is near.

In Bern, Switzerland, foreign military attaches agreed that an attempted invasion of England may come within 72 hours. The Bern dispatch also said reports were current there that 40-mile Nazi "big Berthas" at Calais and Dunkerque had already begun laying down a cross-channel barrage behind Dover. Just 22 miles from Calais, the narrowest point in the English Channel, the German navy is reported to be working on a 200-mile-long barrage.

Box Scores Kept by Belligerent Nations In Titanic Struggle For Air Supremacy

London, Aug. 13.—(P)—In four blasting days of her prelude to blitzkrieg, Germany has sent at least 2,100 planes against England. Starting last Thursday, Hitler's sky raiders have subjected the kingdom to a terrific intensified pounding. Here is the four-day picture:

Thursday—Mass waves of 800 Nazi planes attacked shipping in the English Channel, engaging in huge aerial dog fights with British RAF fighters over the channel.

Sunday—400 German planes smashed at the big naval base at Plymouth, on the south coast, and also attacked Dover and channel shipping.

Monday—500 German raiders bombed Portsmouth naval base, Southampton and Dover.

Tuesday—Between 400 and 600 German planes attacked all along 200-mile channel front.

In these titanic struggles for air supremacy, the belligerent nations made the following claims of planes destroyed:

PRESIDENT IS PLEASED WITH DEFENSE TOUR

Executive Rides Back to Washington Convinced That the National Preparedness Program, Though Not Fully Under Way, is Getting There Fast.

ANOTHER IS PLANNED

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—President Roosevelt cancelled his customary Tuesday press conference today, the White House explaining he had no news to give since he had held several press conferences in the last few days on a tour of New England defense projects.

BY DOUGLAS B. COENELE
Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—President Roosevelt rode back to Washington today convinced that the national preparedness program, though not fully under way, is getting there fast.

That was the way he appraised the defense program in a chat with reporters at the end of an inspection of defense projects from a corner of Maine to New London, Conn.

The inspection tour ended last night at New London, with signs pointing to his starting another before the week closes—to the maneuvers of the first army in up-state New York.

The trip had supplied him with evidence, in New England, he said, of the speeding up of the intricate processes of turning dollars into guns, warships, submarines and torpedoes. It showed him, too, expanding facilities for training recruits to man and operate the finished products.

TURNPIKE PATROLLED
Harrisburg, Aug. 13.—State policemen today began patrolling Pennsylvania's new $70,000,000 turnpike with instructions to keep all "unauthorized" persons off the road until it is completed.

John D. Fallier, executive secretary of the Turnpike Commission said various contractors, bringing their "clean-up" work to completion, "are annoyed at our own cars and those others racing through their jobs."

AUSTRALIAN ARMY STAFF CHIEF, CABINET MINISTERS DIE IN CRASH

Sydney, Australia, Aug. 13.—(P)—Lieutenant General Sir Cyril B. White, chief of the Australian army staff, and three commonwealth ministers, died with six other persons today in the flaming crash of an airliner near the Canberra airport.

The ministers, en route from Melbourne to Canberra to attend a cabinet meeting, were: Brigadier Geoffrey A. Street, defense; J. V. Fairbairn, air; Sir Henry Gullett, vice president of the executive council.

Other victims were Sir Cyril's chief aide, Colonel Thorneycroft; Street's secretary; and the four members of the crew.

Government officials immediately postponed the cabinet meeting and a scheduled session of the Commonwealth Loan Council.

The plane was a Lockheed Hudson bomber. The pilot, forced to land, made what at first appeared to be a successful pancake landing on the side of a hill, but the plane burst into flames almost immediately and the occupants, believed to have been alive when the plane hit the ground, were unable to escape.

Premier Robert G. Menzies said the disaster was "a shocking piece of news and a great national calamity, the consequences of which are not yet fully realized."

"Every man concerned," he added, "was doing war service of the first importance."

Menzies added that other ministers would be sworn in temporarily to take the places of the victims.

Guardsmen From Pennsylvania Participate In Theoretical Attack on "Foreign Powers"

STORM DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED INTO MILLIONS

By The Associated Press
Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 13.—The hurricane-battered coasts of Georgia and South Carolina counted at least 35 dead today and millions of dollars of property damage as near-normalcy returned to the stricken areas.

The Red Cross reported from Washington that 25 negroes were killed on St. Helena Island near Beaufort, S. C., Sunday in the 80-mile-an-hour hurricane that swept out of the Bahamas, and eight other negroes perished on nearby Ladies Island.

Two persons died at Savannah, Ga., as the storm swept that city. One CCC boy was missing on Huntington Island, near Charleston, S. C. Governor Burnet R. Maybank of South Carolina said Beaufort county appeared to have been hardest hit, with at least 200 homes destroyed.

The city of Beaufort and Parris Island, a marine base, were severely damaged, the governor reported, but loss of life appeared confined to negroes on adjacent islands.

Damage to industrial plants in Charleston was estimated at $500,000.

Russell McGowan, Charleston attorney, estimated property damage would approximate $1,000,000 at nearby Folly Island, the worst hit in the Charleston section.

War News Unnerves Speculative Market

New York, Aug. 13.—(P)—War stocks and commodities tumbled today as news of the mounting Nazi air blows against England apparently unnerved speculative markets.

Bethlehem, United States Steel, DuPont, Douglas Aircraft, Glidden, Martin, General Motors, Chrysler, Kennecott Copper, Westinghouse and General Electric were down $1 to around $5 at one time.

Wheat slipped more than a cent a bushel. Hides, sugar, cotton and other staples were off moderately.

Six Miles From Headquarters at Lisbon Infantry Line Moves Forward in Brigade - Versus-Brigade Conflict Commanded by Gen. Martin

TROOPS HOLD UP WELL

Lisbon, N. Y., Aug. 13.—(P)—Pennsylvania's 14,000 National Guardsmen spread out over ever-widening fronts today in a theoretical attack on "a coalition of foreign powers" whose forces, a training memorandum said, have "invaded North America."

The infantry front was six miles from headquarters at Lisbon. Six miles from headquarters at Lisbon an infantry line moved forward in brigade-versus-brigade war under the direction of General Edward Martin, commanding officer of the 25th division.

Farther away, General Edward J. Stackpole's 22nd cavalry division hooped over dusty roads, forced stream and broke through thickets and underbrush in two-sided reinforced cavalry regiment exercises.

The 108th Field Artillery, which arrived from Indiantown Gap, Pa., over the week-end supported one of two infantry divisions with their 155-millimeter Howitzers from an area near McCormick's.

INDICTMENT RECEIVED IN WAR GUILT CASES

Riom, France, Aug. 13.—(P)—The new Supreme Court of France received today the French government's general indictment of those persons whom it accuses of leading France, unprepared, into war.

These were secret preliminary proceedings, but the charges were reported to cover both civil and military responsibilities. There are clear indications that two principal figures will be Edouard Daladier, the premier who declared war on Germany, and Maurice Gesteve Gamelin, the former generalissimo.

Pottsville, Aug. 13.—(P)—Edward Fromme, 62-year-old night watchman at a coal breaker in the village of Steins Mills, was shot down and killed early today by three holdup men traveling in a stolen car later abandoned near Reading.

Sergeant F. V. Piersoll of the Pottsville barracks of the State Police said he was informed by a companion of the slain man that the trio drove up to the old mill breaker about 4:25 a. m.

The companion, Raymond Holley, 24, of Minersville, gave the alarm after the trio had been with about $4, obtained from Holley and the pockets of the dead man.

Holley remained inside when the three men approached. Fromme went out to meet them.

Piersoll said Holley told this story:

Fromme to turn over the money in the office till. Fromme refused. As he turned back toward the shanty, a shot was fired. Fromme fell, fatally wounded.

Ignoring the fallen man, the three men pushed on into the building. (Turn to Page Nine)

WILLKIE IS GRATIFIED

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—Italian troops in British Somaliland are fighting the main British forces fiercely in an attempt to reach the seaport of Berbera after occupying Adaleh, about 50 miles to the south, the High Command reported today.

The battle is continuing in the Adaleh zone following two days of sharp fighting in which one British plane was shot down and the Italians lost one plane, the communiqué said.

Italian fliers were reported to have resumed bombardments of the British Mediterranean base at Malla yesterday, setting fire to oil storage tanks.

Italian advance units were moving on Berbera, the newspaper Piccolo said, with the support of the air force, which was said to be driving back to Aden British planes sent out to attack the Italian ground forces.

Piccolo also reported that Italian planes had bombed British troops and fortifications northwest of Lake Rudolf on the border of Ethiopia and Kenya colony.

New York, Aug. 13.—(P)—Capt. Tonkild Rieber, stocky 500,000-acre chairman of the Texas Corporation, has ended a 25-year career with the International oil firm, the result of recent disclosures of his association with a German commercial emissary to the United States.

The 58-year-old Norwegian-born oil executive, who went to sea at 14 and became a tanker skipper at 21, explained after a seven-hour meeting of the board of directors yesterday he had submitted his resignation "because of certain publicity detrimental to the Texas Corporation" in connection with a red.

THREE WOUNDED IN BEER TAVERN BRAWL

Uniontown, Aug. 13.—(P)—State Policeman Earl Devitt said the refusal of a beer tavern operator to serve a negro on the claim he had been drinking caused a shooting last night in which three men were wounded.

The altercation arose, reported DeWitt, when Louis White, 24-year-old former amateur boxing champion and baseball player, asked for a drink at a nearby New Salem Tavern and was refused.

White was shot in the hip and his brother, Wilbur, 37, suffered lacerations about the forehead and scalp. James Colpe, 45, was wounded in the left arm and Joseph Siniak, 46, in the left hip. All are residents of Buffington.

SEN. TAFT PROPOSES NEW PLAN

Substitute for Controversial Burke-Wadsworth Compulsory Service Bill To Create a Permanent Special System of Voluntary Military Training, Rather Than Conscription Finds Immediate Opposition From Democratic Leader

GUARD LEGISLATION NEARING ENACTMENT

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—Brig.-Gen. William E. Shedd said today that even with a "bigger and louder" advertising campaign and higher pay, the army could not meet its need for manpower through voluntary enlistments.

Plauding for enactment of compulsory military training, for which a bill is now before the senate, the assistant chief of staff in charge of personnel told the house military committee:

"We do not feel it proper or advisable to go to a one-year voluntary enlistment for the regular army."

Representative Chason (R-Mass.) asked why the big army called for under the Burke-Wadsworth bill, now under senate debate, was necessary and the purpose for which it would be used.

"As for the use that they will be put, only time will tell," the army officer replied.

Senator Robert Taft (R-Ohio) proposed that the United States create a permanent special system of voluntary military training, rather than resort to conscription.

As the senate resumed its debate on the controversial Burke-Wadsworth compulsory service bill, Taft offered a substitute plan which he said was designed to build up and maintain a reservoir of 1,500,000 trained men.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, voiced opposition however, to any substitute or compromise measures which would delay inauguration of a conscription program.

With two days of debate in the rear, Barkley observed that things were "going along pretty well" and told reporters he thought that the senate would vote against postponing a draft law to experimental further with voluntary enlistment plans, as anti-conscriptionists have urged.

Meanwhile, legislation empowering the president to mobilize the (Turn to Page Nine)

Correspondent Finds Bristol Damaged But Slightly From Incessant Bombing of Nazis

BY DREW MIDDLETON

Bristol, England, Aug. 13.—(P)—A tour of the city and port of Bristol shows the great aircraft plant and the busy harbor unhanged despite repeated German air raids since June 17 and little damage elsewhere.

I entered Bristol with a press party invited by the Ministry of Information to "see for ourselves" the effect of the Nazi attacks.

Thousands of acres of docks are piled high with wheat, frozen meat and canned fruit unloaded from ships.

Bus and trolley lines are operating. The streets are filled with factory people, none of whom seemed worried while they tramped toward air raid shelters as we entered the city.

The entrance of one shelter had been hit directly with a heavy bomb Sunday night. Two Catholic priests who were standing near the entrance were injured slightly, while 14 women and children inside were unhurt.

Bristol has had air raid warnings totaling 79 hours since June 17. The first casualties were recorded June 21, when a raid killed four persons and injured 30 to 40. The only damage was to a soda

Seven columns, 20 inches in length, made up the first issue of Volume One of the Evening Times. Four of these columns on the first page were devoted to advertising and one was taken up with the wonders of the Babcock Reliance press on which it was printed.

Justice Department Rules Against Sale of Proposed Democratic 1940 Souvenir Book

Contention Over Publication Leads Party's National Chairman to Disclaim Intention of Making a Charge in Its Distribution

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—Democratic plans for a souvenir 1940 campaign book were under the fire today of one party member who called the projected publication an evasion of the anti-political practices act.

Senator Hatch (D-NM), father of that legislation, told his party that "the only thing to do now is to discontinue the book and obey the law."
"Under the act, the sale of the book is not prohibited," he asserted in the senate yesterday, "but its purchase is a violation of the law."

Hatch said advertising by corporations in the book was "clearly an evasion, if not a violation, of the corrupt practices act" banning political contributions by corporations.

The controversy over the Democratic campaign book led Edward J. Flynn, the party's new national chairman, to disclaim intentions of placing the publication on sale.
BY WILLIAM B. ARDERY
Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 13.—(P)—Asserting that even Chairman Edward J. Flynn of the Democratic national committee should "understand that there is a limit to political ruthlessness," Wendell L. Willkie said today:

"I am gratified to learn that Attorney General Robert Jackson and Senator Hatch (D-NM) have today joined in my campaign to prevent the Democratic national committee from brazenly violating both the corrupt practices act and the Hatch act by the sale of Democratic campaign books."

WAR VETS ON DRAFT BOARDS SUGGESTED

Harrisburg, Aug. 13.—(P)—The State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars urged today that a majority of World War veterans be appointed on "draft boards" under the proposed national conscription act to prevent "partiality and favoritism" in the selection of young men for service.
"All eligible men should be compelled to serve regardless of social, economic or political status, and all exemptions should and must be bona fide," asserted Leo Moerschbacher, state VFW commander.

THREE WOUNDED IN BEER TAVERN BRAWL

Uniontown, Aug. 13.—(P)—State Policeman Earl Dewitt said the refusal of a beer tavern operator to serve a negro on the claim he had been drinking caused a shooting last night in which three men were wounded.

The altercation arose, reported DeWitt, when Louis White, 24-year-old former amateur boxing champion and baseball player, asked for a drink at a nearby New Salem Tavern and was refused.

White was shot in the hip and his brother Wilbur, 37, suffered lacerations about the forehead and scalp. James Golpe, 45, was wounded in the left arm and was wounded in the left hip. All are residents of Buffington.

SEN. TAFT PROPOSES NEW PLAN

Substitute for Controversial Burke - Wadsworth Compulsory Service Bill To Create a Permanent Special System of Voluntary Military Training, Rather Than Conscription Finds Immediate Opposition From Democratic Leader

GUARD LEGISLATION NEARING ENACTMENT

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—Brig.-Gen. William E. Shedd said today that even with a "bigger and louder" advertising campaign and higher pay, the army could not meet its need for manpower through voluntary enlistments.

Pleading for enactment of compulsory military training, for which a bill is now before the senate, the assistant chief of staff in charge of personnel told the house military committee:

"We do not feel it proper or advisable to go to a one-year voluntary enlistment for the regular army."

Representative Clason (R-Mass.) asked why the big army called for under the Burke-Wadsworth bill, now under senate debate, was necessary and the purpose for which it would be used.

"As to the use that they will be put, only time will tell," the army officer replied.

Senator Robert Taft (R-Ohio) proposed that the United States create a permanent special system of voluntary military training, rather than resort to conscription. As the senate resumed its debate on the controversial Burke-Wadsworth compulsory service bill, Taft offered a substitute plan which he said was designed to build up and maintain a reservoir of 1,500,000 trained men.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, voiced opposition however, to any substitute or compromise measures which would delay inauguration of a conscription program.

With two days of debate in the record, Barkley observed that things were "going along pretty well" and told reporters he thought that the senate would vote against postponing a draft law to experiment further with voluntary enlistment plans, as anti-conscriptionists have urged.

Meanwhile, legislation empowering the president to mobilize the (Turn To Page Nine)

Correspondent Finds Bristol Damaged But Slightly From Incessant Bombing of Nazis

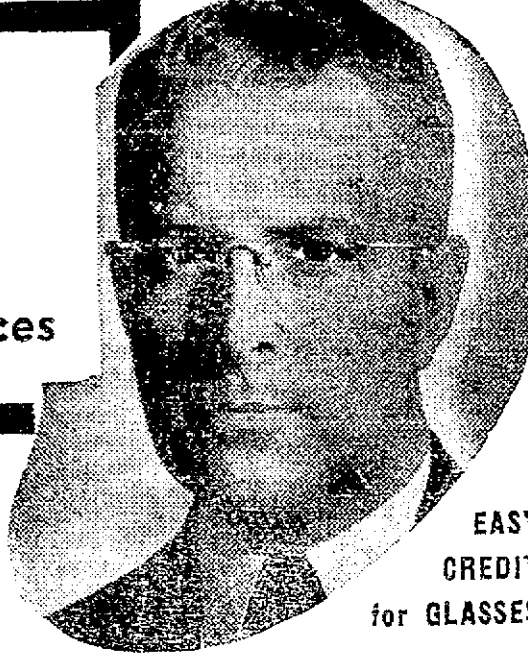

BY DREW MIDDLETON
Bristol, England, Aug. 13.—(P)—A tour of the city and port of Bristol shows the great aircraft plant and the busy harbor unharmed despite repeated German air raids since June 17 and little damage elsewhere.
I entered Bristol with a press party invited by the Ministry of Information to "see for ourselves" the effect of the Nazi attacks.
Thousands of acres of docks are piled high with wheat, frozen meat and canned fruit unloaded from ships.
Bus and trolley lines are operating. The streets are filled with people, none of whom seemed worried while they tramped toward air raid shelters as we entered the city.

The entrance of one shelter had been hit directly with a heavy bomb Sunday night. Two Catholic priests who were standing near the entrance were injured slightly, while 14 women and children inside were unharmed.

Bristol has had air raid warnings totaling 79 hours since June 17. The first casualties were recorded June 21, when a raid killed five persons and injured 30 to 40. The only damage was to a soda factory.

SEVERAL CARS ARE DAMAGED IN SUNDAY MISHAPS

Several cars were slightly damaged in minor accidents in the borough Sunday, according to local police.

Two cars were damaged about noon Sunday when a car driven by H. W. Apple, of 9 Schanz street, came out of that street into Pennsylvania avenue and drove directly in the path of a Chevrolet coach driven by William Steigler, of Cleveland.

Three cars were damaged at the intersection of Hickory street and Pennsylvania avenue. The mishap occurred when Joseph D. Menster, of Sharon, stopped for a red light. The car behind him, operated by Edward M. Lewis, also stopped, but Charles Quinn, of Clairton, driving the third car in line, failed to see the other two quick enough and crashed into the Lewis machine, forcing it into the car ahead. All were slightly damaged.

The third accident occurred at the intersection of Schanz street and Pennsylvania avenue, east, when Matthias Heptig, of Sharon, started to make a left turn into Schanz street. A machine driven by Magnus Gregerson, of Cherry Grove, crashed into the Heptig car, causing slight damage.

DOUBLE FEATURE AT THE LIBRARY WED. AND THURSDAY

"Sporting Blood"
Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan, Lewis Stone, William Gargan and Lynne Carver combine their varied talents in "Sporting Blood," which opens Wednesday and Thursday at the Library Theatre. The picture is one of the most thrilling action pictures which has ever been seen here. It is a race track story in a new setting and with an entirely new idea. It has all the thrills of big races being run, with a spectacular fire thrown in for good measure. Yet its basis is that of prejudice against a young man and his battle to overcome it. Young plays a young racing stable owner who is hated by Lewis Stone because Young's father had once run away with Stone's wife. Young battles this prejudice even to falling in love with Lynne Carver, the older of Stone's daughters. When she kills him, Young marries Miss O'Sullivan for spite and learns how much he needs her love. All the players are excellent.

"Safari"
The story of a beautiful, intelligent but sophisticated woman who was determined to marry wealth, but ended by pitting two men against each other, when love upset her plans, is told in the Paramount romantic drama, "Safari," co-starring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Madeleine Carroll, which opens Wednesday and Thursday at the Library Theatre. Playing featured roles are Tullio Carminati, Muriel Angelus, Lynne Overman and Billy Gilbert.

In Britain August Means Holidays

Although England's traditional August Holiday was permitted this year only to those engaged in non-essential work, some Britishers found it possible to relax despite monetary threats of bombing. With seaside beaches closed to them, the Thames seemed the next best thing. These holiday-makers, at Runnymede, seem unworried by fear of German attack.

Casual Slaughters

Chapter 46

In Love

"YOU haven't told me yet what happened when you found I wasn't at the Pennants," I reminded him.

"I lost my head. You see, I had a bit of bad luck. Mrs. Pennant's car was gone, but she was at home. The colonel phoned the car had left the post not ten minutes before, headed for Chicago. He didn't know who was driving, nor whether there was more than one person in the car."

"I thought you had that story, and that your life was in danger. For all I knew you might have been kidnapped. It didn't even occur to me to look for you at the club. You see, I quite lost my head. I started in pursuit, while Colonel Pennant notified the state police. Not until I had left did anyone think of Julia, and when they went to look for her, she was gone. Too. They decided you two were together, and their anxiety abated. They waited for me to bring you back. Actually, of course, it was a wild-goose chase. Julia had soon turned off the highway and was driving about on the back roads. It was a fool thing to do, without telling anyone, but I gather she was in a state of mind I got back just before she did, and when I found out you and she had quarreled, of course I thought of the club."

He paled. "I got there just in time," he said grimly. "I was tiptoeing along the corridor, wondering where to look for you, when I heard your scream. The killer took to his heels when I broke the door down—he had dropped his gun, evidently in a fall, and had no time to look for it. I thought at first he'd killed you. I went through the bedroom after him—he got out a window. I saw him making for the garage—saw a moving figure. A way, I shot him. Meant to kill him at the moment, but he'll not get off so easily, I'm glad to say."

"You—you were armed?"

"I'm always armed."

He unbuckled his impeccably tailored suit coat and showed me the butt of a gun nestled under his arm. I should never have suspected it was there. He buttoned the coat again and I could detect no slight bulge to betray its presence.

Gerald's Goodby

I REALIZED that I was staring and dropped my eyes. I think I have never been so impressed with any man. I suppose hero worship strikes every woman at some time in her life. A sort of cloud of glory seemed wreathed around his head. I was so thrilled I expect I looked half-witted.

"Then you saved my life," I said tritely. "And risked your own to do it. If he had been armed—"

"It would have been worth my life if I hadn't," he said lightly. "Think I was anxious to face Adam? As it is, he can hardly keep his hands off me!"

It was a gentle reminder that he had been only Adam's deputy. I didn't like him any the less for it, but I felt my cheeks warm a little. And then I thought of something else.

"You were right about Julia, Gerald. She's been in love with Jeff for—forever."

"I have eyes," he said.

"I'm sorry."

"Why should you be sorry? I'm not Julia's grand girl. I like her. But I—she stood up, grinning a little. "I've no time for romance. And besides," she touched my hand lightly and the smile spread to his eyes—"I've always had a weakness for red hair. . . . And now I'm going to say goodby. I'm leaving early tomorrow, and I may not see you again."

"Gerald—I'm proud to know you. You—you won't forget us?" He shook his head. The smile was still on his lips, but not in his eyes.

"If ever you should need me, no matter where or why, wire me in the care of the bureau and I'll come." He touched my hand again. "Take care of yourself."

Over his shoulder I saw Adam standing in the doorway. Gerald turned.

"As I was just saying," he observed lightly, "if I had a girl like Kay I wouldn't leave her to strangers. I'd take care of her myself."

Adam scowled and turned beet red. He stood aside and watched Gerald out of the room, but he said not a word. He watched until Gerald's footsteps diminished into silence. Then he came over to the bed and just looked at me. "That fellow's in love with you," he said accusingly. I raised eyebrows.

Adam's Arms

"JUST what was your mission in New York?" I asked politely.

Abruptly his annoyance faded. A teasing smile twitched his lips. His eyes sparkled.

"A few blondes, a few night-clubs. Is that what you mean?"

I leaned on one elbow and thumped the pillow.

"What did you accomplish?" I demanded bitterly.

"You're not belittling blondes as an accomplishment? They're not and only to redheads—all right, all right, don't work up a temperature!" He sobered abruptly. "I learned three things: that Ivan was a liar and a money-mad scoundrel of whom his poor old parents had despaired; that Sandra had backed his play with all the money she had in the world and lost every penny of it; and in a trunk she had left in storage I found a vague, pitiful letter to Jeff from his father—a deathbed letter explaining that he had left Sandra the ten thousand dollars because it was the smallest part of his estate, and that there was silver on the Ozark farm."

"Oh, Adam—that fiend of a girl! I can really despise her now. Of course it was just a sick man's delusion, but to let Jeff think that his father died hating him—"

"He knows better now. I did that much, regarded me searchingly and forced a note of lightness into his voice. "I suppose that was a touching farewell I just witnessed—Beaufort wouldn't dream of going behind another man's back. His lips would be sealed, you would never know."

He interrupted himself to draw a deep breath and expel it in a single caustic commentary: "Hooley!"

Having spent, along with the breath, a measure of suppressed fury, he returned to his milder manner and his apparent necessity to interpret Gerald to me.

"When I first saw him last night he was nearly out of his mind. I tell you, the fellow's in love with you."

I shook my head. "You're wrong."

"I'm right."

"So what?" I said.

"So if you want him you'd better say so before he leaves."

"You don't think he's going to join the foreign legion?"

He looked affronted.

"It's no laughing matter," he said stiffly. "I'm trying to say that I don't blame either of you. Beaufort is a fine fellow, quite apart from his glamor; and I hope I can lose like a gentleman."

"Oh, so you want to join the legion yourself?"

The power of speech seemed briefly to desert him. He opened his mouth, closed it, looked around for something to throw, then abruptly grinned. He sat down on the edge of the bed, his eyes shedding blue sparks like the broken ends of a live wire, and bent above me smiling.

"Confucius say man who boost brother through window may find self left out in cold," he said.

Under the electrical bombardment of those eyes, my own conversational prowess flagged. I stared back at him in fringed helplessness, saying that he was deliberately waiting for me to speak.

"Confucius nobody's fool!" I said weakly. "But much talk, little do."

He gave a quick, voiceless laugh as his arms swept me up from the pillow.

THE END

MANY EXPECTED AT CONFIRMAND REUNION SUNDAY

Among annual events always much anticipated in the rural Lutheran parishes are the confirmand reunions, which attract large numbers each summer.

The 12th such annual reunion of the Chandlers Valley Lutheran church is to be held next Sunday, August 18. The morning service at eleven o'clock is to be conducted by the Rev. Wallace Johnson, followed by a basket picnic dinner to which all members and friends are cordially invited.

Each one is invited to bring a basket and spend a pleasant social time. The church committee will provide coffee for all, it is announced.

The anniversary program will take place at 2:15 o'clock, with Rev. Lasse Stohl, of Mayville, N. Y., as the guest speaker. All services are on standard time and all confirmands and friends are welcome.

The sixth annual confirmand reunion of the Berea Lutheran church at Freehold was held last Sunday, with Sunday school and morning communion service in charge of Rev. Wallace Johnson. Afterward, there was a basket lunch and social hour preceding the following afternoon program.

Organ prelude, Mrs. Frances Gustafson, church organist; hymn, "My Church, My Church"; greetings, Rev. Johnson; Scripture reading and prayer, Rhue Rein, Jamestown, N. Y.; piano duet, Janice and Gladys Carlson, Jamestown; welcome, Manley Johnson, local Lutheran League president; violin solo, Mrs. Claire Hendrickson, Youngsville; reunion address, Rev. Roy Thelander, Jamestown; vocal solo, Claire Peterson, Youngsville; offertory, roll call by Rev. Johnson, with 86 former confirmands present; greetings read by Mrs. Doris Wolfe, Lutheran League secretary, from Rev. Fant in Michigan and C. W. Jones in California.

Mrs. Hannah Johnson gave a very interesting reminiscence of the first class, in 1877, and it was found that five members are still living and three of them were present at this reunion. Melvin Rein, of Cambridge Springs, commemorated Rev. J. A. Rinell's work and Miss Martha Spetz brought greetings from the class of 1934. Present, also, were Charles Johnson, of Erie, theological student at the Augustana Seminary.

To conclude, the congregation arose and sang "Now Thank We All Our God" and was dismissed with the benediction by Pastor Johnson.

PARTICULAR WITH DIET?

Civilized people enjoy eating the scavenger animals, crabs and shrimps, but shudder at the thought of eating worms and grasshoppers, which feed on healthy vegetables.

Not Bullet-Proof But Tough Enough To Resist Shotgun Fire at 15 Yards

TESTS to show the strength of the new laminated high test safety plate glass developed for automobile use are recorded by Prof. Harold E. Edgerton, of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, inventor of the ultra-high speed photographic technique that makes possible exposures as short as 1/1,000,000th of a second. (1) Stands but 15 yards away, Dick Shaugnessy, 17-year-old champion shot, takes aim with a 12 gauge automatic shotgun at a pane of the new laminated high test safety plate glass mounted in the windshield of a Buick Special sedan. His shells are loaded with 1 1/4 ounces of No. 6 chilled shot, and contain 3 3/4 drams of smokeless powder, the heaviest duck load obtainable. (2) Triggered by the sound of the shot striking the windshield, Professor Edgerton's stroboscopic light illuminates the scene with a flash lasting 1/1,000,000th of a second and having a peak intensity that would exceed 50,000 one-hundred watt lamps if they could be concentrated in a small area. Note that the camera flash caught some of the shot, traveling 100 feet per second faster than the report of the gun, in mid air. (3) Professor Edgerton, standing beside his photographic apparatus, views the result of the test. The shot has cracked the glass, but has failed to penetrate it, despite the concentration of fire and the vicious effect of the wad at short range. (4) Shaugnessy and Professor Edgerton examine the pane after its removal from the windshield. Though cracked on both sides, it still clings to the newly developed polyvinyl acetate resin, the "meat" of the laminated glass type is now used in all General Motors cars, Fisher Body officials announced recently, at the same time cautioning against confusing the new product with bullet-proof glass despite the high impact-resisting qualities shown by these tests.

Company "I" Clerk Writes of Life on A Quiet Saturday

Company I, 112th Inf. Rifle August 10, 1940.
Editor Times-Mirror
Warren, Pa.

Dear Sir:

As I sit here at the typewriter and listen to the soft strains of a Spanish guitar down the street, mingled with the melodious voices of several of the men blended with the howl of a dog in the distance I wonder where all the hustle and bustle of a busy forenoon could have possibly gone. It is Saturday afternoon and the war has been called to a halt for the week-end. Private Page is intruding on the landscape by washing his demins in the center of the Company street. Some place in the distance I can hear a crap game in full swing and I know if I went over to the canteen I would find the life of the camp. Several men from Company I are in town on pass as it is the first time they have been available for the men.

All tents were fueled this morning and a thorough bunk inspection was made of all equipment. The men then fell in on the Company street for rifle inspection followed by muster by Major Mac Kay and Major Leetch.

I can see that we still have a rookie sergeant. Under the direction of the Supply Sergeant, Sgt. Clifford Tremblay was looking through the regiment for blanks for the trench mortar. It is rumored that Sgt. Hedstrom has found himself a new dog-robbler. Private First Class Carl Brown is acting as guide and showing the boys around Lisbon. The most used question around here is, "Where are we, Brown?"

Yours,
Corp. Kelley, Clerk.

INDEPENDENT VOTERS BECOME IMPORTANT

Early sparring in Pennsylvania's presidential campaign has developed a candid and determined effort by both major parties to raid each other's ranks for the independent voter, which in some years wield the balance of power.

Preliminary conferences of leaders seem to show both sides setting up auxiliary organizations with the definite purpose of attracting the voter whose party affiliation is none too firmly fixed.

The Republicans offer the Willkie-for-President clubs
to Democrats and independents who wish to favor the Republican presidential candidate without affiliating
themselves with the regular Republican organization.

To match that strategy, the reader may have noticed
the Democrats are organizing a statewide Republican group to work for the re-election of President Roosevelt.

The weight of the independent vote has been demonstrated several times in the past decade.

In 1934, the Republicans had a registration of 2,624-000 and the Democrats only 1,401,000. Yet it will be recalled the voters elected George H. Earle as the first Democratic governor of this commonwealth in more than forty years.

Republicans turned the tables only four years later.
For this year's primary, the Republicans had a registration of 2,572,000 and the Democrats 2,046,000.

In the meantime, leaders of both parties are going ahead with plans that would seem to indicate that the campaign, so far as the State of Pennsylvania is concerned, will soon be promoted beyond the sizzling point.

Meredith Meyers, Democratic state chairman, says
the plan to organize Republican voters for Roosevelt will be discussed Thursday with Dr. Luther A. Harr, the party's campaign manager. He asserts there have been offers from many Republicans to work for re-election of the president and that the organization under consideration will be used to offset activities of the Republican Willkie clubs.

On the other hand, William H. Harman, Pennsylvania leader of the Willkie clubs, outlining his plans to go after an increased Republican registration at the Hershey conference a week ago, said he believed many Democrats
and independent voters enlisted in the 7,500 clubs he hopes to organize will support the entire Republican ticket.

The campaigns will be given impetus officially at platform-adoption meetings of the state committees. The Republican meeting will be held in Pittsburgh and that of the Democrats probably in Harrisburg. The dates, in September, are not yet fixed.

WE'RE HAVING A BIRTHDAY

Quietly and modestly, which we believe is quite in keeping with the dignity that should be displayed by adults of such mature years, the Times-Mirror today is observing its fortieth anniversary, not that we are willing to admit that there is any excuse for a newspaper feeling its age.

Someone has said that it is paradoxical that the older
a newspaper becomes the better it should be and the greater its service to the community. Believing in the wisdom of such a statement, it must be admitted that it is a difficult assignment those of us now on the paper, founded forty years ago by S. E. Walker, have to carry out. We have sought in the past and will continue to attempt to adhere to the high and laudable principles and standards established when the paper was first launched,
and at the same time endeavor to continue to merit the confidence the people have always exhibited in this publication.

The Times-Mirror is proud to be a part of the life of Warren and the favored region of which this city is the center; and gratified that it has had, for two score years,
a share in those forward-looking activities which have made for a remarkable community.

Inspired by the achievements of the past, and the records left to us by our predecessors, we face the future with a firm determination to carry on, confident that we will be favored with the same interest and co-operation of citizens generally, without which the Times-Mirror
could not have survived the first forty years.

Sure seems nice to have the airmail pickup and delivery plane back with us twice a day again.

One month from today and it'll be "Friday the 13th."

FIREWORKS LIKELY IF DE- FENSE BOARD POSTPONES ARNOLD ANTI-TRUST SUIT

(While Bruce Catton vacations,
other members of the NEA Service Washington staff pinch hit
for him.)

BY GERRY DICK
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
Washington, Aug. 13.—There will be fireworks if the National Defense Commission recommends postponement of the government's anti-trust suit against 22 major
oil companies.

Some liberals in Congress who feel the administration is becoming "too conciliatory" to big business promise a congressional investigation if the case is buried.
And Thurman Arnold, balked
for the first time since he became chief of the Justice Department's anti-trust division—may have to be fired "to eliminate interference with the production of war essentials." Arnold will go down fighting, even if he has to fight the administration.

The administration may put pressure on Arnold to postpone the suit or to suspend anti-trust laws.
In that event Arnold will likely wind up on the outside. Such a happening would be embarrassing
all the way around to the New Deal in this election year.

The suit was ready several days ago, but it wasn't filed. Instead there was a polite exchange of notes between Attorney General
Jackson and the Defense Commission. Now the case is being held up temporarily at least until the commission informs itself of the effect of such action on the defense program.

It was to be the anti-trust suit
of the century, and this delay has made a lot of people sore.

Anti-trust division lawyers deny
the suit would disorganize petroleum production and distribution
now, point out that 18 months at least would be required to bring
the case to court.

Aug. 14 marks the fifth anniversary of signing of the social security bill by President Roosevelt. Changes since the law's original passage have made it more generous to beneficiaries and have reduced the amount of the taxes levied on business to maintain the aged, indigent and unemployed.

Nearly two million indigent in 48 states now receiving monthly checks. The exact number as last computed amounted to 1,983-900 individuals who drew a total of $1,502,009,565 for one month.
Half of this amount was in grants
from the federal treasury and the remainder came from state treasuries. The social security act permits payments of as much as $40
a month to each dependent person.
Most states pay less.

Benefits for needy children are fixed at $18 a month for the first child and $12 for each child after the first. Today there are 807,900 dependent children who draw a total of $350,154,088 each month.
Needy blind number 48,000; they receive $46,990,532 monthly.

Fifty million people are now on the books of the board for old age insurance. Many of the people are inactive because they have gone into business for themselves or for other reasons. Active participants would probably number between

28,000,000 and 30,000,000.

Under this insurance law employed persons pay 1 per cent of their wages into a federal fund.
The employer pays the same amount. The fund is held by three trustees—the secretary of the treasury, chairman of the Social Security Board and the secretary of labor. On June 30 this year the fund amounted to $1,738,100,000.
Insurance payments are made to 102,941 persons monthly, for a total of $1,900,000.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Being ever vigilant to do its duty by its customers, this department herewith commends to your attention the whimsical antics of a trio of humorists who, after seven years of shuttling their art between bargain basements and county fairs, have come into some belated and deserved recognition.

They are known professionally as the Three Pitchmen. Their individual names are Al Ganz, Al Meyers, and Vince Lapolla. Their forte is mimicking band leaders and musical instruments with ka-zoos, and in our opinion they are every bit the equal of the Four Radio Rogues.

Ganz is the tallest one, and while he plays the kazoo he mimics with a collapsible phoney trombone which he keeps to his nose. Al Meyers, his brother-in-law, has a collapsible fiddle, and does all the talking. Lapolla is the pianist. So adept at kazooes are they that they can duplicate the tonal extremities of Hawaiian orchestras and brass bands. Their pantomime is exquisite. I caught them in the Rainbow Room, which is the first big league club they have ever played. "It's the first roof they ever had over their heads," explained Ed Seay (rhymes with tea) of Texas.

GANZ explained that he and his friends were "doing a pitch" in one of the Manhattan stores. That is to say, they were putting on their act and playing their kazooes for the benefit of the customers one day when a stranger suggested they go and see Mr.
Roy, who handled the Rainbow Room for Mr. Rockefeller. This stranger took them to see Mr.

Roy himself; an audition was arranged, and presently the Three Pitchmen were under the lush mazdas of that 65th-floor rendezvous, which must have seemed like the consummation of an unreal but very pleasant dream after all the thin, lonely years at state fairs and on bleak, windswept corners, waiting for something good to happen.

You can't describe these fellows, because real comedy is something intangible, not to be transcribed into sentences and paragraphs. The only way you can even begin to understand their worth is to see them. They are not new, because they have been doing this for seven years, but no one knew anything about them because they have only now been discovered.

THEIR income at times has come from the sales of kazooes, those "moonshin'-organs" that amplify the human voice. Now they give those same kazooes away to the audiences which ring the floor show at Mr. Rockefeller's night club, and the audience shares in the festivities.

Not long ago the three volunteered their services for the milk fund drive and wound up "doing a pitch" on the Whitney estate.
"You always price them according to how the audience is dressed," Ganz explained. "Sometimes we sell for a nickel. At the Whitney estate it was fifty cents."
All this money, of course, went into the milk fund.

They find it pleasant to recognize, each night around the floor,
many of the people they sold kazooes to in those days of so long ago. Well, a month or so ago, anyway. Now they don't have to sell them. They give them away, and get paid for doing it.

INDEPENDENT VOTERS BECOME IMPORTANT

Early sparring in Pennsylvania's presidential campaign has developed a candid and determined effort by both major parties to raid each other's ranks for the independent voter, which in some years wield the balance of power.

Preliminary conferences of leaders seem to show both sides setting up auxiliary organizations with the definite
purpose of attracting the voter whose party affiliation is none too firmly fixed.

The Republicans offer the Willkie-for-President clubs
to Democrats and independents who wish to favor the Republican presidential candidate without affiliating
themselves with the regular Republican organization.

To match that strategy, the reader may have noticed
the Democrats are organizing a statewide Republican
group to work for the re-election of President Roosevelt.

The weight of the independent vote has been demonstrated several times in the past decade.

In 1934, the Republicans had a registration of 2,624,- 000 and the Democrats only 1,401,000. Yet it will be recalled the voters elected George H. Earle as the first Democratic governor of this commonwealth in more than forty years.

Republicans turned the tables only four years later.
For this year's primary, the Republicans had a registration of 2,572,000 and the Democrats 2,046,000.

In the meantime, leaders of both parties are going
ahead with plans that would seem to indicate that the campaign, so far as the State of Pennsylvania is concerned, will soon be promoted beyond the sizzling point.

Meredith Meyers, Democratic state chairman, says
the plan to organize Republican voters for Roosevelt will be discussed Thursday with Dr. Luther A. Harr, the party's campaign manager. He asserts there have been offers from many Republicans to work for re-election of the president and that the organization under consideration will be used to offset activities of the Republican Willkie clubs.

On the other hand, William H. Harman, Pennsylvania
leader of the Willkie clubs, outlining his plans to go after an increased Republican registration at the Hershey conference a week ago, said he believed many Democrats
and independent voters enlisted in the 7,500 clubs he hopes to organize will support the entire Republican ticket.

The campaigns will be given impetus officially at platform-adopting meetings of the state committees. The Republican meeting will be held in Pittsburgh and that of the Democrats probably in Harrisburg. The dates, in September, are not yet fixed.

WE'RE HAVING A BIRTHDAY

Quietly and modestly, which we believe is quite in keeping with the dignity that should be displayed by adults of such mature years, the Times-Mirror today is observing its fortieth anniversary, not that we are willing to admit that there is any excuse for a newspaper feeling
its age.

Someone has said that it is paradoxical that the older
a newspaper becomes the better it should be and the greater its service to the community. Believing in the wisdom of such a statement, it must be admitted that it is a difficult assignment those of us now on the paper, founded forty years ago by S. E. Walker, have to carry out.
We have sought in the past and will continue to attempt to adhere to the high and laudable principles and standards established when the paper was first launched,
and at the same time endeavor to continue to merit the confidence the people have always exhibited in this publication.

The Times-Mirror is proud to be a part of the life of Warren and the favored region of which this city is the center; and gratified that it has had, for two score years,
a share in those forward-looking activities which have
made for a remarkable community.

Inspired by the achievements of the past, and the records left to us by our predecessors, we face the future
with a firm determination to carry on, confident that we will be favored with the same interest and co-operation of citizens generally, without which the Times-Mirror
could not have survived the first forty years.

Sure seems nice to have the airmail pickup and delivery plane back with us twice a day again.

One month from today and it'll be "Friday the 13th."

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

And it shall be, if thou do at all forget the Lord thy God, and walk after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I testify against you this day ye shall surely perish.—Deuteronomy 8:19.

FIREWORKS LIKELY IF DE- FENSE BOARD POSTPONES ARNOLD ANTI-TRUST SUIT

(While Bruce Catton vacations,
other members of the NEA Service Washington staff pinch hit
for him.)

BY GERRY DICK
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
Washington, Aug. 13.—There will be fireworks if the National Defense Commission recommends postponement of the government's anti-trust suit against 22 major
oil companies.

Some liberals in Congress who
feel the administration is becoming "too conciliatory" to big business promise a congressional investigation if the case is buried.

And Thurman Arnold, balked
for the first time since he became
chief of the Justice Department's anti-trust division—may have to be fired "to eliminate interference
with the production of war essentials." Arnold will go down fighting, even if he has to fight the administration.

The administration may put pressure on Arnold to postpone the
suit or to suspend anti-trust laws.
In that event Arnold will likely wind up on the outside. Such a happening would be embarrassing
all the way around to the New Deal in this election year.

The suit was ready several days ago, but it wasn't filed. Instead
there was a polite exchange of
notes between Attorney General
Jackson and the Defense Commission. Now the case is being held
up temporarily at least until the commission informs itself of the effect of such action on the defense program.

It was to be the anti-trust suit
of the century, and this delay has made a lot of people sore.

Anti-trust division lawyers deny
the suit would disorganize petroleum production and distribution
now, point out that 18 months at least would be required to bring
the case to court.

Aug. 14 marks the fifth anniversary of signing of the social security bill by President Roosevelt. Changes since the law's original passage have made it more generous to beneficiaries and have reduced the amount of the taxes
levied on business to maintain the aged, indigent and unemployed.

Nearly two million indigent in 48 states, now receiving monthly checks. The exact number as
last computed amounted to 1,983,- 900 individuals who drew a total of $1,502,009,565 for one month.
Half of this amount was in grants
from the federal treasury and the remainder came from state treasuries. The social security act permits payments of as much as $40
a month to each dependent person.

Most states pay less.

Benefits for needy children are
fixed at $18 a month for the first child and $12 for each child after the first. Today there are 807,900
dependent children who draw a total of $350,154,088 each month.
Needy blind number 48,000; they receive $46,990,532 monthly.

Fifty million people are now on
the books of the board for old age
insurance. Many of the people are inactive because they have gone
into business for themselves or for other reasons. Active participants
would probably number between

28,000,000 and 30,000,000.

Under this insurance law employed persons pay 1 per cent of their wages into a federal fund.
The employer pays the same amount. The fund is held by three trustees—the secretary of the treasury, chairman of the Social Security Board and the secretary of labor. On June 30 this year the fund amounted to $1,738,100,000.

Insurance payments are made to 102,941 persons monthly, for a total of $1,900,000.

SCHOOL BOARD ACCEPTS BID FOR BUILDING FENCE ON THREE SIDES OF RUSSELL FIELD BY SEPT. 26

SCHOOL BOARD... First steps in the enclosing of Russell Field were taken by the Warren borough school board at an adjourned meeting yesterday afternoon when the bid of the Pickett Hardware Company for erecting a sheet steel fence on three sides was accepted. Work on the new fence is to be started at once and must be completed by September 26.

The new fence, which will be erected at a cost of $4,514, will be only around the level portion of the field, extending from the foot of the bank on the Pennsylvania avenue side to Lexington avenue and across the Lexington avenue side.

For the present, the bank on the north side of the field and the portion along Pennsylvania avenue will have no fence.

On the Lexington avenue side there will be two automobile gates and two pedestrian gates.

With the decision to erect the fence came a discussion concerning the proper rental for use of Russell Field for football, baseball and other activities. No decision was reached in this matter.

In addition to the action accepting the bid for the fence, the board yesterday accepted the resignation of two teachers, Miss Gwendolyn Sherman and Mrs. Georgia P. Logan, and elected one new teacher. He is Ralph C. Walker, of Corry, who was named instructor in industrial arts and science. A recommendation that Rebecca Harris be employed as a clerk on a substitute basis to take the place of Miss Helen Haehn, now on sick leave, was approved.

Purchase of materials by the building and repairs committee at a cost of $287.78 was approved, as was the recommendation that approximately 200 seats at the Beatty and Home street schools be welded by the Klenck Machine and Repair Shop at a cost of 22½ cents each.

Use of a room at the East street building for the purpose of conducting a private kindergarten was granted to Mrs. Mary Ball Conway at a rental rate of $2.50 per month.

Tuition rates in the local schools were set at $9.00 per month for the grades and $7.00 per month for the high school. This is an increase of $1.15 per month in the grades and three cents per month in the high school.

Present at yesterday's meeting were President W. F. Clinger, Directors H. M. Mohr, M. G. Keller, W. M. Cashman and R. W. Mackay; Superintendent John G. Rossman and Solicitor A. C. Flick.

SCHOOL BOARD ACCEPTS BID FOR BUILDING FENCE ON THREE SIDES OF RUSSELL FIELD BY SEPT. 26

SCHOOL BOARD. First steps in the enclosing of Russell Field were taken by the Warren borough school board at an adjourned meeting yesterday afternoon when the bid of the Pickett Hardware Company for erecting a sheet steel fence on three sides was accepted. Work on the new fence is to be started at once and must be completed by September 26.

The new fence, which will be erected at a cost of $4,514, will be only around the level portion of the field, extending from the foot of the bank on the Pennsylvania avenue side to Lexington avenue and across the Lexington avenue side.

For the present, the bank on the north side of the field and the portion along Pennsylvania avenue will have no fence.

On the Lexington avenue side there will be two automobile gates and two pedestrian gates.

With the decision to erect the fence came a discussion concerning the proper rental for use of Russell Field for football, baseball and other activities. No decision was reached in this matter.

In addition to the action accepting the bid for the fence, the board yesterday accepted the resignation of two teachers, Miss Gwendolyn Sherman and Mrs. Georgia P. Logan, and elected one new teacher. He is Ralph C. Wat- erhouse, of Corry, who was named instructor in industrial arts and science. A recommendation that Rebecca Harris be employed as a clerk on a substitute basis to take the place of Miss Helen Haehn, now on sick leave, was approved.

Purchase of materials by the building and repairs committee at a cost of $287.78 was approved, as was the recommendation that approximately 200 seats at the Beatty and Home street schools be welded by the Klenck Machine and Repair Shop at a cost of 22 1/2 cents each.

Use of a room at the East street building for the purpose of conducting a private kindergarten was granted to Mrs. Mary Ball Conway at a rental rate of $2.50 per month.

Tuition rates in the local schools were set at $9.05 per month for the grades and $7.73 per month for the high school. This is an increase of $1.15 per month in the grades and three cents per month in the high school.

Present yesterday's meeting were President W. F. Clinger, Directors H. M. Mohr, M. G. Keller, W. M. Cashman and R. W. Mackay; Superintendent John G. Rossman and Solicitor A. C. Flick.

Oh, You Can't Get Into the Army, IF---

AP Feature Service

SUPPOSE, young Mr. America, your number DOES come up in the proposed draft lottery. What then?

One chance in three, you'll be turned down as physically unfit.

That's been the recent proportion of rejection among volunteers, and U. S. army officials anticipate no lowering of standards for drafted men.

Of a sample lot of 1,186 volunteers in May, 393 or 33.1

per cent were rejected. Of these rejections, 27.23 per cent failed because of teeth. A rookie must have at least 12, properly located. Next biggest current cause of rejection is faulty eyesight, failing of 19.34 per cent.

Minimum requirements for height are 5 feet, 4 inches; for weight, 120 pounds, and for chest expansion, two inches. Just 13.69 per cent went out for these reasons. Poor hearing knocked out 10.69 per cent. Pronounced flat feet, knock knees and bow legs took a toll, along with lesser causes of rejection, including just plain facial ugliness.

Second flight — Mrs. Plumer Prutz-Mrs. James Chapman, Mrs. Melvin Keller-Betty Jane Branch-Mrs. Edward Walker, Mrs. George Calderwood-Bye.

The local team evened things up with Titusville on Monday by defeating the visitors 15½-8½, after losing an early summer match at Titusville. Pairings and scores for yesterday's match were as follows:

Mrs. Bjels and Mrs. Chapman tied with Mrs. McKinney and Mrs. McCabe for second place.

He's listed in the box score as a catcher, but Al Lopez's Pittsburgh Pirates mates all call him "winning pitcher Al" and they point to him as the sparkplug in base-ball's most sensational winning drive.

The Bucs, who have known the dregs of last place but are now only a game and a half behind the third place Giants, were paced to their 20th win in their last 25 starts last night by Lopez—a 4-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and Buckey Walters.

The experts have come up with this excellent answer to the why and wherefore of that success: It's Lopez's handling of the pitchers—Young Ken Heintzelman, John Lanning, Dick Lananah and Rip Sewell—that has made the Bucs the hottest club in the big leagues.

Lopez modestly credits the team's fielding as the reason for the upswing. Manager Frankie Frisch says it's because the club "is hustling and getting the breaks." But the ball players, who ought to know, thank Al for their inspiration.

Last night, for instance, Al scored the first Pirate run in the sixth inning, which he opened with a single. He singled Frankie Gus-tine home with another in the seventh after the young second sack-er had pounded Elbie Fletcher home, to the great delight of 42,254 fans, who incidentally brought the attendance for seven night games to 167,930.

Max Butcher had the Reds in control all the way, parcelling out only nine hits, including a four-bagger by Schmozz Lombardi. The Reds, losing their eighth game of the year, was touched for 10 hits.

The Cleveland Indians whacked out 12 hits, including three homers, to hand Master Bobby Feller his 20th victory of the year and take undisputed possession of first place in the American League with an 8-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Feller held the Bengals to seven hits and brought his streakout for the year to 197 with seven.

Hal Trosky, Beau Bell and Roy Weatherly hit for the circuit to keep the Indians' victory torch alight, and Ben Chapman paced the attack with three singles.

In the only other major league game, Jimmy Webb doubled in the ninth to score Bob Kennedy and give the Chicago White Sox a 6-5 victory over the St. Louis Browns in a night game in St. Louis. The Sox left 17 men stranded, one short of the league record.

FEDERAL RULES FOR MIGRATORY BIRDS ARE SET

Washington, Aug. 13—(P)—Secretary Ickes announced yesterday that the hunting season for ducks, geese, coots and jacksnipe has been extended to 60 days this year from the 45-day limit of last season.

Announcing the annual regulations for shooting migratory waterfowl, the secretary said that the extension was made possible by an increase in the population of these birds.

The regulations also lengthened the hunting day. Shooting may start at sunrise and continue until 4 p. m. for waterfowl and coot. Last year the hours were 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. Jacksnipe may be hunted from sunrise to sunset.

The bag limit on ducks remains at 10 a day.

Shooting seasons were provided, however, for woodcocks, and the bag limit on geese was reduced from 4 to 3 a day.

Shooting seasons on ducks, geese, coots and jacksnipe follow:

The intermediate zone, October 16 to December 14.

The zone includes Vermont, New Mexico, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Idaho, Colorado, Utah, Nevada, California, Oregon and Washington.

As in previous years, the number of waterfowl that may be possessed at any time is limited to two days' bag, but a new rule makes it possible to possess the legal limit for 20 days after the close of the season instead of 10 days.

The bag of canvassbacks, red-heads, buffleheads, and ruddy ducks is limited to 3 a day, of any one of these species. The regulations also provide that not more than 3 of this entire group may be taken in one day. The possession limit on these birds also is double the daily bag limit.

The bag limit on coots is 25 a day and on jacksnipes 15 a day with possession limited to not exceed the daily bag limit.

Closed seasons throughout the United States and Alaska are continued on wood ducks, Ross's geese and swans.

Hunters may use bows and arrows or shotguns not larger than ten gauge. The three-shell limit on repeating guns is continued. Use of bait or live decoys also is forbidden.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT MAY BE HELD IF INTEREST SHOWN

Although no definite steps have been taken, an effort will be made to conduct a tennis tournament here this year providing there is enough interest among the players.

It was announced today by one of those who has taken an active part in the past.

While tennis playing is at a minimum here, it is believed that there are enough persons interested, especially among the younger crop of players, to have an interesting tournament.

It has been requested that all those interested in a tournament call or write the sports department of the Times-Mirror not later than next Monday, August 19th, so that the event may be started at once if there are sufficient entries.

Further announcements will be made concerning the tournament as soon as they are available.

TROTTERING RACE TO HAVE EVENLY MATCHED FIELD

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 13—(P)—There's no outstanding three-year-old trotter performing on the Grand Circuit and hence there's no favorite for the rich Hambletonian tomorrow. Instead, when 50,000 fans pack themselves into Good Time Park, they'll have to choose among a half dozen evenly matched horses.

The payment of the final $500 fees today will determine the exact number of starters and indications there are there will be at least ten, bringing the gross value of the race to about $44,000.

Of these Hambletonians, Spencer Scott, Kuno, Earl's Moody Guy and Remus are given about even chances. The other five likely starters, none a rank outsider, are Steward, Princess Pert, Queen Victoria, Sister Hanover and Gentleman Jim.

LYONS FEARS KNIFE

Chicago—Although Ted Lyons has been bothered by chronic appendicitis for four or five years, the White Sox pitcher refuses to undergo an operation.

POSSIBILITY OF RETURN BATTLE IS CONSIDERED

Philadelphia, Aug. 13—(P)—A return bout between Chicago's Milt Aron and Boston's Mike Kaplan, two leading contenders for Henry Armstrong's welterweight championship, appeared in prospect today.

The two battled to a 10-round draw at the Philadelphia Garden last night although many in the crowd of 4,500 thought Kaplan, a 9 to 5 underdog, had won. They stood around the ring at the finish howling their disapproval.

"So far as Kaplan is concerned," said his manager, Jack O'Brien, "we are ready to meet Aron in a 15-round bout here in September. There is just one thing. We will insist Aron come in at 147 pounds, the welterweight limit."

Aron weighed 150 pounds to Kaplan's 147 last night.

Kaplan, using a left jab to good advantage, knocked Aron down for a count of two in the first round and at the finish had inflicted a cut above Aron's eye. The Chicagoan was taken to a hospital where three stitches were required to close the wound.

Kaplan absorbed a lot of punishment in return. Aron staggered him in the third and fourth rounds and in the sixth knocked him down for no count. At the finish Kaplan's left eye like Aron's, was closed.

So it is a reasonable expectation that after the last lick has been hit tonight and the ships have been collected and the winner's hand raised, there will be some yelling and gesticulating either by Jimmy Johnson, who manages Pastor, or by little Johnny Ray, who thinks his boy Conn is the coming heavyweight champion.

Because neither fighter is a knock-outer, the match has not created a great deal of interest and might not draw more than $50,000 at the gate.

It still is a mystery to at least one impartial observer why there has been a favorite ever since the articles were signed. By every yardstick in common use—experience, weight, defensive ability and fire power—Pastor appears to have a distinct edge. Anyhow, he looks like the more sensible choice. Yet the gamblers still were offering slight odds against Pastor's chances at the last call-out.

It will be strictly Conn vs. Pastor once they get in the ring, with the result a toss-up. Conn, the light-heavyweight champion, is facing a good deal of the best fighter he has met since he began bounc-ing. Fred Apostoli around here nearly two years ago. Pastor is meeting a young Irishman with a dancing spirit and a pair of lashing fists, who thinks he can whip Joe Louis.

One wavering vote for Pastor.

Bob Pastor and Conn Ready For Important Ring Battle Tonight

BY GAYLE TALBOT

New York, Aug. 13—(P)—Possibly the safest prediction that can be made about tonight's light-heavyweight battle between Bob Pastor and Billy Conn at the Polo Grounds is that it will go 15 fast rounds to a split decision, with the manager of the losing gladiator yelling murder at the verdict.

A fight between two such clever but light-hitting men usually ends that way, barring a bad cut that forces the referee to stop it.

Seldom around here at least do the two judges and the referee agree on the winner, and the divergences of opinion between these supposed experts sometimes is amazing.

Today's Guest Star

Louis C. Cook, Douglas (Wyo.) Enterprise: "Mike Jacobs is considering purchasing the Brooklyn Dodgers. . . . Well, there's one thing about it, the Dodgers in one corner and Joe Louis in the other would draw a mighty big crowd."

Onch!

Some big dropped a paper sack full of water on Jimmy Johnson's dome while he was standing in front of the 20th Century Sport-yelling that tonight's Pastor-Conn fight is in the bag for Conn. . . . That's one way to shut him up. . . . Texas fans are wondering why Homer Norton of the Texas Aggies didn't make a better showing in the poll to select a coach for the college all-star squad. All Homer did last season was have a perfect drive, then kick Tulane in the Sugar Bowl.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press
Bob Feller, Indians—Won his 20th game of the season by stopping the Detroit Tigers with a seven-inning performance.
Al Lopez, Pirates—Sparked the Bucs to a 4-2 win over Reds with two timely blows.
Jimmy Webb, White Sox—Doubled to send Bob Kennedy home with winning run in Sox 6-5 victory over St. Louis Browns.

BY BILL WHITE

Associated Press Sports Writer
He's listed in the box score as a catcher, but Al Lopez's Pittsburgh Pirates mates all call him "Winning Pitcher Al" and they point to him as the sparkplug in baseball's most sensational winning drive.

The Bucs, who have known the dregs of last place but are now only a game and a half behind the third place Giants, were paced to their 20th win in their last 25 starts last night by Lopez—a 4-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and Bucky Walters.

The experts have come up with this excellent answer to the whys and wherefores of that success: It's Lopez's handling of the pitchers—Young Ken Heintzelman, John Lanning, Dick Lannahan and Rip Sewell—that has made the Bucs the hottest club in the big leagues.

Lopez modestly credits the team's fielding as the reason for the upswing. Manager Frankie Frisch says it's because the club "is hustling and getting the breaks." But the ball players, who ought to know, thank Al for their inspiration.

Last night, for instance, Al scored the first Pirate run in the sixth inning, which he opened with a single. He singled Frankie Gustine home with another in the seventh after the young second sacker had pounded Elbie Fletcher home, to the great delight of 42,254 fans, who incidentally brought the attendance for seven night games to 167,930.

Max Butcher had the Reds in control all the way, parcelling out only nine hits, including a four-bagger by Schnozz Lombardi. Walters, losing his eighth game of the year, was touched for 10 hits.

The Cleveland Indians whacked out 12 hits, including three homers, to hand Master Bobby Feller his 20th victory of the year and take undisputed possession of first place in the American League with an 8-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Feller held the Bengals to seven blows and brought his strikeout total for the year to 197 with seven.

Hal Trosky, Beau Bell and Roy Weatherly hit for the circuit to keep the Indians' victory torch alight, and Ben Chapman paced the attack with three singles.

In the only other major league game, Jimmy Webb doubled in the ninth to score Bob Kennedy and give the Chicago White Sox a 6-5 victory over the St. Louis Browns in a night game in St. Louis. The Sox left 17 men stranded, one short of the league record.

Although no definite steps have been taken, an effort will be made to conduct a tennis tournament here this year providing there is enough interest among the players, it was announced today by one of those who has taken an active part in the past.

While tennis playing is at a minimum here, it is believed that there are enough persons interested, especially among the younger crop of players, to have an interesting tournament.

It has been requested that all those interested in a tournament call or write the sports department of the Times-Mirror not later than next Monday, August 19th, so that the event may be started at once if there are sufficient entries.

Further announcements will be made concerning the tournament as soon as they are available.

FEDERAL RULES FOR MIGRATORY BIRDS ARE SET

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—Secretary Ickes announced yesterday that the hunting season for ducks, geese, coots and jacksnipe had been extended to 60 days this year from the 45-day limit of last season.

Announcing the annual regulations for shooting migratory waterfowl, the secretary said that the extension was made possible by an increase in the population of these birds.

The regulations also lengthened the hunting day. Shooting may start at sunrise and continue until 4 p. m. for waterfowl and coot. Last year the hours were 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. Jacksnipe may be hunted from sunrise to sunset.

The bag limit on ducks remains at 10 a day.

Shorter seasons were provided, however, for woodcocks, and the bag limit on geese was reduced from 4 to 3 a day.

Shooting seasons on ducks, geese, coots and jacksnipe follow: The intermediate zone, October 16 to December 14.

The zone includes Vermont, New Mexico, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Idaho, Colorado, Utah, Nevada, California, Oregon and Washington.

As in previous years, the number of waterfowl that may be possessed at any time is limited to two days' bag, but a new rule makes it possible to possess the legal limit for 20 days after the close of the season instead of 10 days.

The bag of canvassbacks, redheads, buffleheads, and ruddy ducks is limited to 3 a day, of any one of these species. The regulations also provide that not more than 3 of the entire group may be taken in one day. The possession limit on these birds also is double the daily bag limit.

The bag limit on coots is 25 a day and on jacksnipes 15 a day with possession limited to not exceed the daily bag limit.

Closed seasons throughout the United States and Alaska are continued on wood ducks, Ross' geese and others.

Hunters may use bows and arrows or shotguns not larger than ten gauge. The three-shell limit on repeating guns is continued. Use of bait or live decoys also is forbidden.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

BY EL HILDUM
(Pinch-hitting for Sports Editor Bill Rice, who is taking a week's rest from his arduous labors)

Before slipping away for a well-earned vacation from his many exacting labors, the regular conductor of this column warned all and sundry that we would be stewing "petals of wisdom" in the paths of his public. So, having been duly warned, both of them can skip this pillar for a week and come back next Monday, ready to absorb the conjurings of a brain refreshed by complete rest from the world of sport—except, possibly, a few rounds of golf. At any rate, we'll be carrying on and hoping to keep this space well filled.

For many years the trend in all lines of sport has been away from home-town officiating. Warren High School was one of the last to get away from local officials entirely, but with the arrival of the coming football season the shift will be complete. Director of Athletics J. B. Leidig has indicated that none of the home games of the Dragons will be handled by any Warren officials. However, most of those who will form the whistle-blowing brigade at the local grid games will be familiar to local fans, having handled games here in the past. Incidentally while on the subject of officiating, we might mention that a meeting on rules is being held at the high school here on August 20, at 7 p. m., to which all officials and others interested are invited.

The "great" Benny McCoy, for whom the Philadelphia Athletics placed $65,000 on the line, has been benched indefinitely because he failed to perform up to expectations. Which causes us to wonder if baseball managers aren't a little like customers at a circus—they don't know what to do in a prize package until they open it. We can think of several highly publicized players who have brought a bundle of gilt to local fans, having handled games here in the past. Incidentally while on the subject of officiating, we might mention that a meeting on rules is being held at the high school here on August 20, at 7 p. m., to which all officials and others interested are invited.

Flash! Since the first paragraph of this column was written, word has come that our wandering sports editor will be on display as a tennis player (Hi, Bill) tomorrow afternoon. That long-awaited match which will send Larry Amy and Sports Editor Rice against Dr. A. F. Yerg and Monty McClure will take place tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock on the hospital court, South Side. Bill readily admits that he played his last set of tennis in 1929, so what in the world he is doing in that company is beyond us. However, they're preparing to handle a big gallery and the line forms to the right.

Picked up here and there: Brookville High loses both of its coaches this year. . . . Harry Fridley, former Kane High and Manhattan College football star, gives up the grid coaching post to enter private employment in his home town. . . . Herb Peterson, former Bradford High and Penn State basketball star, will move to Hollidaysburg High School to continue his cage coaching career. . . . The football coaches' clinic at Conneaut Lake Park on Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be attended by Coach Leidig and Assistants Heinie Kolpien and A. F. Dunham, of the Warren High staff. . . . They will be accompanied by Dick Schumacher, now coaching at Carnegie, and possibly Heggie Schmidt, Smethport mentor. . . . We're expecting to see an announcement almost any day of the marriage of one of the district's coaches. . . . Unless those Bucs strike another snag, we might have to eat out prediction at the start of the season that they would finish a poor fourth. . . . We gave up on the Yankees long ago!

TROTTER RACE TO HAVE EVENLY MATCHED FIELD

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 13.—(P)—There's no outstanding three-year-old trotter performing on the Grand Circuit and hence there's no favorite for the rich Hambleton tomorrow. Instead, when perhaps 50,000 fans pack themselves into Good Time Park, they'll have to choose among a half dozen evenly matched horses.

The payment of the final $500 fees today will determine the exact number of starters and indications are there will be at least ten, bringing the gross value of the race to about $44,000.

Of these Milestone, Spencer Scott, Kuno, Earl's Moody Guy and Remus are given about even chances. The other five likely starters, none a rank outsider, are Steward, Princess Pert, Queen Victoria, Sister Hanover and Gentleman Jim.

SEEDER PLAYERS WIN IN ERIE TOURNAMENT

Erie, Aug. 13.—(P)—Straight set victories advanced three seeded players through the opening of the Great Lakes Tennis Tournament yesterday. Gordon Robinson, Stamford, Conn., top ranked, beat Phil Dehuff, Lehigh captain from Pittsburgh, 8-6, 6-2. Harry Zink, Steubenville, O., No. 2, eliminated Bill Waughman, Pittsburgh, 6-1, 6-1, and Bob Braithwaite, Ripley, N. Y., No. 7, defeated Bobby Pfeil, Port Allegany, Pa., 6-4, 6-0.

POSSIBILITY OF RETURN BATTLE IS CONSIDERED

Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—(P)—A return bout between Chicago's Milt Aron and Boston's Mike Kaplan, two leading contenders for Henry Armstrong's welterweight champion, appeared in prospect today.

The two battled to a 10-round draw at the Philadelphia Garden last night although many in the crowd of 4,500 thought Kaplan, a 9 to 5 underdog, had won. They stood around the ring at the finish howling their disapproval.

"So far as Kaplan is concerned," said his manager, Jack O'Brien, "we are ready to meet Aron in a 15-round bout here in September. There is just one thing. We will insist Aron come in at 147 pounds, the welterweight limit."

Aron weighed 150 pounds to Kaplan's 147 last night. Kaplan, using a left jab to good advantage, knocked Aron down for a count of two in the first round and at the finish had inflicted a cut above Aron's eye. The Chicagoan was taken to a hospital where three stitches were required to close the wound.

Kaplan absorbed a lot of punishment in return. Aron staggered him in the third and fourth rounds and in the sixth knocked him down for no count. At the finish Kaplan's left eye like Aron's, was closed.

Bob Pastor and Conn Ready For Important Ring Battle Tonight

BY GAYLE TALBOT

New York, Aug. 13.—(P)—Possibly the safest prediction that can be made about tonight's fight between Bob Pastor and Billy Conn at the Polo Grounds is that it will go 15 fast rounds to a split decision, with the manager of the losing gladiator yelling murder at the verdict.

A fight between two such clever but light-hitting men usually ends that way, barring a bad cut that forces the referee to stop it.

Seldom—around here at least—do the two judges and the referee agree on the winner, and the divergences of opinion between these supposed experts sometimes is amazing.

So it is a reasonable expectation that after the last lick has been hit tonight and the winner's hand raised, there will be some yelling and gesticulating either by Jimmy Johnson, who manages Pastor, or by little Johnny Ray, who thinks his boy Conn is the coming heavyweight champion.

Because neither fighter is a knocker-out, the match has not created a great deal of interest and might not draw more than $50,000 at the gate.

It still is a mystery to at least one impartial observer why Conn has been a favorite ever since the articles were signed. By every yardstick in common use—experience, weight, defensive ability and fire power—Pastor appears to have a distinct edge. Anyhow, he looks like the more sensible choice. Yet the gamblers still were offering slight odds against Pastor's chances at the last call-over. It will be strictly Conn vs. Pastor once they get in the ring, with the result a toss-up. Conn, the light heavyweight champion, is facing a good deal the best fighter he has met since he began boxing. Fred Apostoli around here nearly two years ago. Pastor is meeting a young Irishman with a flaming spirit and a pair of lashing fists, who thinks he can whip Joe Louis.

One wavering vote for Pastor.

L. D. Meyer Runs to Power Like Most Tigers; But Second Baseman Covers a Wide Range; He Was the End Who Caught Baugh's Passes

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

DETROIT gets additional power in L. D. Meyer, the second baseman purchased from Knoxville. Dutch Meyer is not the most brilliant infielder in the business, but covers considerable ground and throws well, despite the fact that he injured his arm in football.

Working with Dick Bartell when Charley Gehring is out, Meyer should be on double plays as the Tigers tear down the American League stretch.

Detroit is fortunate to pick up a player like Meyer at this stage. Jack Zeller closed the deal after personally scouting the young man in Atlanta, and when he was unable to land an experienced major league infielder.

Like most Detroit athletes, the 24-year-old Meyer, nephew of Leo (Dutch) Meyer, the Texas Christian football coach, runs to punch. He batted .331 for Knoxville. . . . led the Southern Association in total bases with 256, and in runs-batted-in with 96. He manufactured 22 home runs, nine triples, 19 doubles. . . . 139 hits.

PIE TRAYNOR, snooping around for the Pirates, watched Meyer for two weeks in spring practice. . . . remarked that he had perfect batting form. He is a right-handed hitter.

Meyer, who stands 5 feet 10 1/2 inches and weighs 180 pounds, carries the same competitive spirit in professional baseball that he did as an all-round athlete at Texas Christian, where as an end he caught most of the passes thrown by the celebrated Sammy Baugh.

He married his college sweetheart more than a year ago, and is still very collegiate.

He is superstitious. . . . raises his right foot and taps his heel with his right hand each time he goes to bat.

MEYER wasn't equipped to oust Billy Herman when he reported to the Chicago Nationals upon graduation from Texas Christian in June, 1937.

The Cubs tried to make an outfielder out of him, but were required to give him a bonus if he was retained after a certain date, and it was that clause in his contract which led to his outright release.

Last year with Knoxville, Meyer, a native of Waco, hit 31 doubles, two triples and nine home runs in compiling an average of .304. He drove in 66 runs.

Dutch Meyer is big and strong and tough. . . . has fire and ambition. . . . is on the upgrade.

Detroit may have something there.

PLAN RECALL OF BALTIC ENVOYS

Washington, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The American government prepared today to withdraw its representatives in the three tiny Baltic states whose independence from Russia spanned a brief 22 years.

While disapproving of Russia's absorption of Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia, the State Department was understood to have decided it could do nothing but comply with a Russian request to recall diplomatic and consular officials from the three countries.

At the same time, conversations continued in the effort to improve relations between the United States and Russia. Constantine Gousman, the Soviet ambassador, conferred with Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, for more than an hour yesterday. It was their third long conference in a little more than a week.

These were understood to aim chiefly at eliminating trade difficulties following the recent renewal of the annual trade agreement between the two countries, but the talks were said to have extended over the whole field of relations which have been rather strained for some time.

Zero Hour Believed to be Near

Simultaneously, the English censor, after holding back a dispatch from an Associated Press correspondent in a southeast coastal town for 24 hours, finally passed a cabled report that shells were falling on a coastal town there.

If true, the Germans apparently were blasting at British beach and shoreline defenses to prepare for troop landings.

Untold hundreds of German planes, apparently surpassing the 500 hurled into yesterday's great battles, bombed and strafed coastal towns with a rising toll of British soldier and civilian casualties.

First reports listed 10 known dead.

Nazi strategy appeared to be aimed at blasting the coast from Dover to Portsmouth, rendering the channel waters untenable for defense by the powerful British home fleet and paving the way for a possible troop crossing of the narrow channel.

London dispatches said the Germans were throwing their top-flight airmen into the struggle. Captured Nazi aviators seemed better trained, more experienced and physically superior to earlier prisoners, the dispatches said. Their ages averaged about 23 years.

Berlin reported that Marshal Goering's air forces broke through defenses of British pursuit planes and anti-aircraft fire to bomb Portsmouth base of the British home fleet, and destroy planes on runways and hangars at an airport there.

The British reportedly lost "a great number of chasers" in flaming air clashes throughout the early forenoon.

Germans said between 20 and 30 RAF planes were shot down in the first encounters, including 14 destroyed in fights over Eastchurch on the Thames river. Portsmouth and Alderhot, the English "Plattsburg" training camp.

Germans indicated that fierce attacks on Britain's south coast naval bases, primary targets of mass flight bombings Sunday and Monday, may have forced the guardian British war fleet to quit its channel positions.

Insurance adjusters estimated damage at Savannah would total between $850,000 and $1,000,000. City officials estimated damage at Beaufort at more than $100,000. The entire coastal area from Brunswick, Ga., to Charleston was affected to some extent by the storm.

National Guard and reserves advanced another step toward enactment. The House military committee voted unanimously last night to recommend passage of the senate-approved measure, but made several changes in its provisions.

The committee retained the requirement that men called to the colors should be restored to their former, or equivalent, jobs after their year's active service but struck out the provision that an employer's failure to reinstate a man would constitute unfair labor practice under the national labor relations act.

It also revised the National Guard provisions to require mandatory discharge, upon request, of a guardsman with one or more absolute dependents.

Meanwhile the threat of an Italian-Greek crisis grew today as the Fascist press launched a new attack on Greece, charging complicity in the decapitation of Daul Hoggia, Albanian "patriot."

Mud wasps make curious mud nests resembling the "pipes of Pan."

ACCUSATION IN NOTE TO GREECE

Rome, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Virginia Gayda, Fascist editor who often reflects official opinion, accused Greece today of seeking to seize part of Italian-held Albania.

The accusation was contained in Gayda's rejection of a Greek version of the slaying near the Greek frontier of an Albanian, Daul Hoggia.

(It was reported without confirmation in Athens that the Italian government had presented a note to Greece.)

Greek authorities, Gayda charged in the newspaper Il Giornale d'Italia, are planning "actions against Albanian independence" and intended to use the slaying as "an act of propaganda for an annexation of southern Albania to Greece."

(Since the Good Friday invasion of 1939 which toppled King Zog from his throne, Albania has been incorporated within the Italian Empire.)

Gayda charged also that Greece long had been a "silent ally and agitator" for the democracies.

ing, but the younger man—hearing what was happening—hid $237 in cash and made a quick note of the car's license number.

The men left without finding the money.

Piersoll said the automobile had been stolen in Philadelphia Sunday night. It was found wrecked about 6 a. m. near the borough police station in Wyomissing.

Motor police here were informed that holdup men traveled in a car of the same description used in a holdup of a coal trucker at Beazy Corner, Berks county, yesterday afternoon. They obtained $37 in that holdup.

A few hours later two women motorists in Berks county reported they were robbed of $16.

Sergeant Piersoll said it had been established that the same automobile was used in all the holdups.

Fromme was shot in the back. Physicians said he apparently died almost immediately.

The trio directed Holley to help them search for the money. He refused. When they were unsuccessful in finding any large amount, they ordered him to empty his own pockets. The trio also went through the clothing of the dead man.

From those sources they obtained about $4.

After the holdup the trio sped away. Holley rushed to a telephone nearly a mile away and notified motor police at 4:37 a. m.

Patrols were established immediately on all roads in the vicinity—but the speeding holdup auto apparently already had rushed across the line into Berks county.

The police received a report almost immediately that an automobile had hit the side of an underpass on the Crescon highway, on the other side of Pottsville, stripping off the chromium trim and door handle. Those objects were missing on the car found at Wyomissing, located just outside Reading.

Motor police here said the trio apparently followed Route 83 over the Blue Mountains and decided to abandon the car with the coming of daylight because its damaged condition would make it so conspicuous.

The automobile stolen in Philadelphia was owned by a man in Perkasie.

Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The automobile used by holdup men who murdered a coal breaker watchman today near Pottsville was stolen last night from a Philadelphia parking lot.

Its loss was reported to city police by Luther Worthington, Perkasie business man, its owner.

The Evening Times was first published in the store room in the Exchange Block on Pennsylvania avenue, west, now occupied by the R. W. Norris Company. The paper was published in this location until 1905, when the plant was moved into its own building at 225 Pennsylvania avenue, west, now the Warren Land building. Only a part of one floor was utilized for the newspaper plant, the balance being used as a job printing plant, and the basement was rented.

Later two entire floors were used for the publication of the Evening Times. In 1920 extensive alterations were made and the present modern building was erected in 1925.

The current Times-Mirror represents the merging of two dailies. The Mirror, originally started as a weekly by S. E. Walker and his brother, Edward, was founded to advertise patent medicines then being manufactured by the two. S. E. Walker later sold his interests in this paper and in 1893 started what was known as the Daily Democrat, which he published until 1900 when he founded the Times.

In 1921 The Times Publishing Company acquired the Warren Evening Mirror and it was published as a morning paper until November, 1928. In that same year, both were merged to form the present evening publication, The Times-Mirror.

Epilepsy Yields to Medical Science

BY PAUL BRAUNSCHEWEIGER of The Mullen Drug Co.

Epilepsy is a malady with a two thousand year old history. For at least that span of time medical science has been attempting to discover the cause and cure of this disorder.

The victory is close at hand. In recent years doctors have been able to abate the force and effects of epileptic attacks and just recently have neared the cure they have been seeking through many centuries.

If your child is epileptic, take courage. Consult a doctor, put the case in his hands. Not only is relief available, but permanent cure is possible.

All medication must be of the best. Patronize a good druggist. This is the fourth of a series of Editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each Tuesday. Copyright
